ABSTRACT

The world has become smaller with internet and its technologies. In today's world, everything is in our fingertip. We can access anything in the world through internet. With internet and its technologies, any height can be reached and any standard can be maintained. One of the internet Communication is Events and Conferences website. This project aimed to book a what are the events are going on our surroundings and The great Speakers are going to share they experience about the what are the new technology is going on and then future technology . Events and Conferences Website is used to Most of the time Employees can't get the upcoming or latest events/conference from their work company. Even though they get the latest events/conference, they have to get register with the receptionist. if in case there are 100 or 500 people in the work company. It might take a long time for other people to get on time for the event that they have registered for. In that cases, it is not worth it for anyone.. This system lets you know detail through scroll on pages. This website is an innovation that helps to bring effective outcomes on Employees.
